BIG GAME BUENOS AIRES

Largest wild herds of Black Buck & Axis Deer in the globe

Our Buenos Aires Big Game hunting program is based out of our Los Crestones Lodge. A luxurious and sophisticated estancia, situated on 60 hectares of pristine Argentine woodlands, on the banks of the Salado River. The mature woodlands and surrounding fertile countryside offer our guests a combination of great wing-shooting and the best big game hunting in South America.

The largest herds of wild Blackbuck Antelope in the world live not far from the lodge, and right around the lodge, you'll find some of the best wild Axis Deer hunting in the country. Our guides are big game hunting professionals, who know these private lands inside and out. They can organize a hunt and provide an accurate rental rifle. They will also guide bowhunters, but we suggest you allow more time if you'd like to pursue either species with a bow.

LOCATION

Los Crestones Lodge is located in Castelli, province of Buenos Aires—on the banks of the Salado River. The traditional estancia is surrounded by 60 hectares of preserved natural woodlands, featuring four distinct landscapes:

The Countryside

This productive agricultural area is home to livestock grounds and vast fields home to wheat, corn, sunflower, sorghum, and soybean operations throughout the season.

The Park

Designed more than a century ago, and updated in 2000, this area brims with native and exotic species of both flora and fauna for you to explore. The arboretum is punctuated by fruit trees, a lagoon, and a botanical interpretive center.

The River

The mighty Salgado River zigzags through the pampa and is home to an array of birds, including herons, cigüeñas, flamingos, and spoonbills. Here, you'll also encounter otters, capybara, and trout.

The Woodland

This area includes native trees emblematic of the region, such as talas, Sombras de toro, ombúes, and saúcos y coronillos; birds including the Zorzales, Calandrias, and Picazurros; plus deer and the endangered butterfly, which we've adopted as our estancia symbol.

GETTING THERE

To get to the lodge there are daily direct flights from many U.S. cities to Buenos Aires (Ezeiza Intl. Airport – EZE). Reaching Los Crestones is easy, the lodge is a convenient two-hour drive from Buenos Aires, via route N2 (104 miles), followed by about 5 miles on good roads through the stunning Argentina countryside.

Helicopter charters from the airport to the lodge can also be arranged, as well as private plane charters to our closest landing strip (25-minute drive). Once at the lodge, you are conveniently close to hunting grounds, with drives averaging 10 to 45 minutes depending on water conditions.

THE HUNTING

The Buenos Aires Big Game program is focused on offering the best fair-chase, big game hunting in South America. All species we pursue are completely free-range and wild. Spotting and stalking is the most common method of hunting for rifle hunters. Archery hunters may also spend some time sitting over travel corridors and watering areas, awaiting their quarry to come in.

Drive times vary depending on the selected hunting area, but typically range from 30 minutes to an hour and a half. Most hunts last all day, with an authentic Asado lunch served in the field. A pair of hunters will be accompanied by one guide, all guides speak English (2x1 guiding). When on horseback, the hunting party will be accompanied by a gaucho (wrangler), who will take care of horses and harvest game.

For some of our further hunting locations we offer overnight lodging on different ranch houses right on the selected hunting areas. By doing this we avoid long commutes.

Our Blackbuck Antelope herd is one of the largest free range herds in all of the world, with numbers far exceeding those you would find even in their native range across India and Pakistan.

Axis Deer are pursued across a number of our ranches and leases, from just nearby the lodge or on the same ranches where you will find the blackbuck. As Axis are a subtropical deer, there is no defined rutting season, as bucks will fight and breed all year long. Based upon the time of your visit and our scouting efforts, we will decide where your best opportunities lie for a great animal to harvest.

Wild Boar hunts on horseback with revolver and lever action rifles can be done very close to the lodge. Day or half day hunt can be arranged. Water Buffalo Hunting is generally about 1 1/2 hours away from the ranch. Day hunt available.

After the hunt we take care of the preparation and paperwork for the trophy export.

BLACKBUCK ANTELOPE

The Blackbuck (Antelope Cervicapra) is a diurnal antelope. They graze on open fields of low grasses, occasionally browsing as well. Does become sexually mature at eight months, but mate no earlier than a year and a half. Bucks mature later, at one and a half years. Mating takes place throughout the year. Gestation is typically 6 months long, after which a single fawn is born. The lifespan is typically 10 - 15 years. They are very prolific and in good years average 1.5 newborn p/ year.

They have great eyesight and they rely on it much more than their noses that are not as sharp as deer, for example. They are wide open ground animals, avoiding thick wooded areas as much as possible. From the lodge we access some of the finest areas for free range Black Buck and we arrange hunts that can even be done in half a day after an early morning duck hunt. Our leases have antelope by the thousands!

AXIS DEER

The Axis deer is a species of deer that is native to the Indian subcontinent. The axis is a moderately sized deer. Males reach nearly 35 inches and females 28 inches at the shoulder; the head and body length is around 5.6 feet. While bucks weigh from 70 to 180 lb, the lighter females average 70 pounds.

Aaron Anchorena, a wealthy Argentine, brought Axis deer from India as well as Black Buck in the late 19th century. He released them on some of his properties in Argentina and Uruguay. Just like blackbuck, they thrived and colonized massive areas of territory. Central eastern Buenos Aires province was one of the original ranges where they were released around 1890. Today the area has some of the best wild free range populations in South America. Our lodge is located very close to the heart of this big area. This gives our guests the opportunity to hunt true wild axis deer.

WILD BOAR

Wild Boar (Sus Scrofa) was the first non-native game animal introduced in Argentina by the early Spanish conquistadores. Later in the 19 century more pure european boars were introduced in Patagonia and central Argentina. Rapidly they expanded through major areas of the country.

The swamps and vast grasslands of the San Borombon Bay are the main habitat for a huge population of wild boar. Buenos Aires Big Game is located only 45 min away from the bay and we have access to thousands of acres of land on the bay and also inland where every year we find more and more pigs.
