WHY HUNT WITH US?

Since Red Deer were introduced into Argentina more than a hundred years ago, they have flourished throughout many ranges in the country. However, not all stag hunts are created equal. It is important to choose the right outfitter, and Red Stag Patagonia has the experience, the private ranches, and the herds with the trophy bulls.

Red Stag Patagonia is brought to you by the team at David Denies Bird Hunting and their partner Sebastian F. Casado. For over 30 years David Denies has operated the finest bird hunting lodges in South America and has deservedly built a reputation for providing world class sport supported by impeccable service and lodging. Red Stag Patagonia mirrors the commitment to quality and integrity. You only get one chance at a sporting holiday. One week in the mountains. One shot, and one terrific stag. With so much riding on a hunt, you need to consider your options and work with a guide and outfitter that cares as much about your success as you do. Red Stag Patagonia is the premier wild stag outfitter in Argentina. For more than fifteen years we've been putting hunters into big deer, and in position for that one shot. Why hunt with us? Let us spell it out for you:

- Reliable: More than 15 years of big game hunting experience in Patagonia.
- Easy: Big game hunting for every level, from walking and stalking to horseback, and vehicle use.
- Diverse: Several private ranches, each one with unique assets that can accommodate different expectations and hunting methods, offering many options.
- Service: Like our sister companies Nervous Waters and David Denies, you will find a service culture unequalled in outdoor sport. Our staff, from household to ranch managers, gauchos, and guides are professionally trained and focused on your hunting success and comfort. Our main office is at your service around-the-clock.
- Tomorrow: We place enormous emphasis on taking care of our pristine and wild environment. We manage our game herds with a strict plan to assure the health of the local populations and good hunting for tomorrow, and for generations to come.
- Accommodation: We provide the best lodging possible at each hunting location. Ranging from truly fine accommodation to local Patagonian estancias, mountain cabin and spike camps, all run with the utmost attention to detail.
- Game: Providing only the very best wild and fair chase hunts.
